Art Unit: 1636

The restriction requirement mailed 7 June 2005 is hereby WITHDRAWN as having been drawn in part to canceled claims. The pending claims, 28 and 29, fall within one of the originally specified restriction groups. As such, the restriction requirement previously made is now moot, and examination of claims 28 and 29 is set forth below.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 28 and 29 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 28 and 29 of copending Application No. 10/954,721. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1636

Claims 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DeBoer et al. (U, newly cited).

The claims are drawn to a method of directional cloning of a nucleic acid molecule, comprising combining the first and second portions of a regulatory element, which is defined as including promoters, to form a new, third regulatory element, wherein the presence of the intact new element indicates a direction of cloning. Claim 29 recites that lacO is present.

DeBoer et al teaches, e.g., at Figure 1, the construction of the tac promoter, including the steps of ligating a fragment encoding trp promoter -35 region and cutting a vector comprising lac promoter Pribnow sequence, and then ligating them such that a new promoter is formed, Ptac. Screening for the proper insertion configuration is then performed inherently by the of isolation of the expected 300 bp EcoRI fragment containing the tac promoter. LacO is present in lac promoter, and remains so in tac promoter.
